

Dear Visitor:

Thank you for your interest in the West Virginia State Privacy Office HIPAA Preemption Analysis. Please be advised that this document is intended for internal use by State Privacy Officers, and is not intended to serve as legal advice. While we are hopeful that it will provide you with general guidance, please consult your own counsel for specific legal advice concerning your own HIPAA compliance

This analysis reflects West Virginia state law and federal laws and regulations as of August 30, 2011. However, as both state and federal law are constantly changing and continually evolving, this analysis remains subject to modification.

This analysis compares various sections of West Virginia state law that relate to the use or disclosure of health information. The statutes reviewed may not always directly involve a Covered Entity as defined by HIPAA. The HIPAA Preemption Analysis does not examine a variety of other sources that may have the "force and effect" of law. Visitors to the West Virginia State Privacy Office website reviewing the HIPAA Preemption Analysis are encouraged to provide feedback on this document. There may be instances where others have a different opinion or interpretation with regard to the application of the laws analyzed here and how they may be affected by HIPAA; if so, we are interested in reviewing your analysis. Please submit your comments in writing to:
